Are you excited about the Oscars tonight? Let's talk about what might happen at the big awards show (1)! The Oscars are all about celebrating great movies (2) and the talented people who make them. This year, the experts think one movie might win a lot of awards (3).

The movie called "Oppenheimer" seems to be a top favorite. It's a big historical drama directed by Christopher Nolan. This movie tells the story of a famous scientist (4) and his work on the atomic bomb (5). "Oppenheimer" has been nominated for 13 Oscars, which is a lot! Many people in the entertainment industry believe (6) "Oppenheimer" will win the award for Best Picture. It's already won lots of other awards before the Oscars. Everyone seems to agree that this movie is something special. The lead actor in "Oppenheimer," Cillian Murphy, is also expected (7) to win an award. He's playing the scientist in the movie, and his performance (8) has been praised a lot. Experts say he's done a great job and deserves (9) to win.

But it's not just "Oppenheimer" that's getting attention. Other movies and actors are nominated too. Emma Stone and Lily Gladstone are both up for Best Actress. They've both done amazing jobs in their movies, and it's hard to say who will win. The Oscars are always full of surprises, so we'll have to wait and see who takes home the big awards. It's going to be a fun night celebrating the magic (10) of movies!
